

MARINA ROLLMAN

“UN SPECTACLE DRÔLE”

One man show

Revealed to the public through her facetious columnist work, Marina Rollman takes a mischievous look at our strange society in her first show. How do you become a good person? Why do people who are cuddled have no ambition in life? What is the absurd project behind bachelorette parties? How can we fight the “neo-religions” that are ravaging our generation, such as self-entrepreneurship and cross-fit? These are all essential questions that Marina Rollman tries to answer as a keen observer of a society in constant change, made up of progress and absurdities that are necessarily tasty!
